Gubernatorial Election Day Nears

Tuesday is election day for Virginians with five choices on the ballot for Governor of Virginia; four choices for Lieutenant Governor; three choices for Attorney General of Virginia.

For the House of Delegates from the 48th Legislative District (Appomattox, Buckingham, Nelson counties) attorney Claude W. Anderson incumbent of Buckingham, is unopposed.

Appomattox county has ten precincts with polls open from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. The only recent change in registrars in the county is the retirement of R. B. Haley as registrar for Southside precienct who has been succeeded by L. A. Young.

Chief competitors for the governor's office are William C. Battle, of Charlottesville, former ambassador to Australia, and Democratic candidate and attorney Lynwood C. Holton, of Roanoke, Republican, who lost to Governor Mills E. Godwin four years ago.

Also in the race: Dr. William A. Pennington, of Buckingham, American Independent Party candidate; Beverly B. McDowell, Conservative Party candidate and George R. Walker, of Portsmouth, an independent.

In the race for lieutenant governor is State Senator J. Sargeant Reynolds, Democrat, executive vice president of Reynolds Aluminum Credit Corp., a subsidiary of Reynolds Metals.

Republican candidate is State Senator H. D. ("Buz") Dawbarn, industrialist of Waynesboro. Running under the banner of the American Independent Party is Samuel Joe Breeding, Jr., of Grundy, an explosives dealer who served a term in the General Assembly as an independent. Conservative party candidate is Louis A. "Pete" Brooks, a Waynesboro sporting goods dealer.

Andrew P. Miller, of Abingdon, is a practicing attorney and Democratic candidate for Attorney General of Virginia. Richard D. Obenshain is the Republican candidate with Flavius B. Walker, Jr., of Richmond running for the attorney General's office as a Conservative party candidate.

AIP Candidate For Governor

American Independent Party candidate for Governor of Virginia is Dr. William A. Pennington, of Buckingham (left) who was covering through a wide section of the Commonwealth Friday with an early morning stop in Appomattox. Traveling with him was George Melton, state campaign chairman (at right). "Until I got in the race," said Dr. Pennington, "there was just a one-party system." I'm anxious to tell the people who read the 'weeklies' and the 'bi-weeklies' what's going on." He said, further, that he is opposed to sex education in the schools, does not believe that smoking causes cancer and in summing up the political scene said, "Let Holton have the rich - Battle, the welfare recipients. I want to reach the overworked, over - taxed middle income people who need representation."

Halloween Party In Evergreen

Presbyterian Board To Meet

The executive board of the Women of the Church, Appomattox Presbyterian, will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 6 at the church as announced by the president, Mrs. Joel Carnefix.

Rabies Clinic

The Appomattox County Health Department announces there will be a dog rabies vaccination clinic on Thursday, November 6, 1969 from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. at the Fire House in Appomattox, Virginia. The fee for this clinic will be $1.50 per dog. Dogs over 4 months of age may be vaccinated.

National Y Week

October 19-25 is national Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y Week and Tri-Hi-Y members at Appomattox High School are helping with the celebration. Members attended Liberty Baptist Church as a group Sunday morning, and a full week of activities is planned, according to Donna Hubbard, president of the Sr. Tri-Hi-Y.

There are three groups of "Hi-Ye" at AHS – the Torch Club for 8th graders, Jr. Tri-Hi-Y and Sr. Tri-Hi-Y.

Purpose of the organization is to "create, maintain and extend high standards of Christian character throughout the home, school and community."

T-Rebs- Mites In Championship Games Sat.

Mites and T- Reb football players play Saturday night with T-Rebs playing a championship game for Campbell County Youth League, meeting Rustburg at Rustburg at 8 p.m. Mites' opponents will be Richland Hills at 8 p.m. at the old Brookville High School.

Both teams won in the first round of the playoffs Saturday. Mites beat Vista Acres 20 to 0 and T-Rebs played Timberlake here with no score by either team.

Clean Flags For Veterans' Day

Post 104, American Legion, of Appomattox in cooperation with Herncall's Cleaners, is offering to pick up the American flags sold through the Post a few years ago, take them to Herncall's to be cleaned and returned them to the owners in time for Veteran's Day, Nov. 11. Herncall's is offering this as a free service.

Flag committeemen include Cliff Harvey, W. E. Layne and L. A. Young, or flag owners may get in touch with any member of the Legion.

Uniforms For Band

As a result of the goals listed for the Appomattox High School P.T.A., much interest has been shown in the project of obtaining new uniforms for the High School Band.

A committee of parents met on Monday night with Mr. Frank Coffey to discuss the organizing of Band Parents Organization and fund raising possibilities for new Blazer Uniforms for the band. This type uniform will be less costly than the regular band uniform and could be used by a choral group or orchestra if the regulation uniform is purchased in the future. An estimation of the cost of 40 Blazer Uniforms is $2,000. Any civic group, club, business concern or individual wishing to contribute to this project is invited to do so, making the check payable to the "Appomattox Band Parents Organization" and giving it to one of these committee members: Mrs. E. W. Paulette, Mrs. Jim Beaty, Mrs. Dave Jones, Mrs. Lloyd Hudson and Mrs. H. D. Folks.

This committee will also be available to explain this project to any group desiring more information.

P-TA Festival In Pamplin

Pamplin P-TA announces that there will be a Halloween Festival Friday, Oct. 31 at the Pamplin School with a kissing booth, bean bag game, fish pond, snacks and surprises. Everybody is invited to come in costume, ready for fun.

N&W Official Will Speak Tonight- County Chamber Of Commerce

Membership Drive Begins

The public is invited to hear a Norfolk and Western Railway Company official tonight at 8 p.m. as the Appomattox County Chamber of Commerce holds its annual meeting in the Court House.

Speaker will be C. A. Gearhart, Industrial Agent for Norfolk and Western Railway Company.

Ivey Holland, as chairman of the nominating committee will also be presenting a slate of board members to replace seven whose terms expire this year. The Chamber of Commerce has a board of 14 members from which a president and vice-president are elected. The secretary and treasurer of the Chamber are also elected by the board of directors but may or may not be members of the board.

Those whose terms are expiring include Roy A. Moon, president; John S. Grinels, vice president; Floyd Eggleston, James Beaty, Francis Elliott, Richard Williams and E. Carter Martin.

Seven members who were elected last year include A. L. Rector, T. DeWitt Evans, Eugene W. Carson, J. L. Cobb, Jr., Dr. A. A. Fratrick, John C. Cole and Ivey Holland.

Speaker for the evening, C. A. Gearhart, holds the rank of Naval Reserve Commander, serving in the Navy from 1941 to 1945 and again in 1952 - 54. His railroad experience dates back to 1936 and his first position as stenographer at Crewe, Va. He has served the company in many positions.

A native of Vinton, Va. his formal education after graduation from William Byrd High School includes National Business College, Roanoke, a BA certificate from the U.S. Armed Forces Institute and he is also a graduate of Norfolk and Western Freight Traffic School.

He is a member of Delta Nu Alpha Transportation Fraternity, American Society of Traffic and Transportation and N. C. Industrial Developers Association.

He is married and has two sons.

During the past two years the Chamber of Commerce has become associated with the Va. Travel Council, Lynchburg Tours, Inc. and other groups promoting tourism and industry.

Chamber of Commerce officers answer hundreds of inquiries each year seeking information about Appomattox history, about property and housing and tourist accomodations. The C... , together with governmental bodies of the county and towns of Appomattox and Pamplin, have continued a project to print and distribute 100,000 brochures about Appomattox, a brochure which is a revision of a brochure printed first by the Rural Area Development Committee.

Chamber of Commerce treasurer T. DeWitt Evans reports a very favorable response to this year's membership drive. More than 125 letters have been mailed to businessmen, professional men and women and others soliciting business and individual memberships. These are being processed daily, Evans says, and anyone wishing to join the Chamber of Commerce can do so by seeing the treasurer at the meeting, by mail, or in person at Farmers National Bank.

Squad Canvass In Evergreen

A canvass of Evergreen and the surrounding area for the Appomattox County Rescue Squad Fund will begin this week with plans of completion by Nov. 4. This portion of the canvass is being conducted by the Evergreen Ruritans.

Armobile Open Tonight 7-9

As shipping grew to be an important industry to a struggling young economy after the Revolutionary War, it only follows that the carving of figureheads became a major craft in the United States at that time.

Some excellent examples of this art of the sea are currently on view in a Virginia Museum Armobile at the Appomattox Elementary School.

The Armobile is open each day from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and this evening (Thursday) is open from 7 to 9 p.m. with the exhibit closing tomorrow (Fri.).

Hundreds of school children and adults have already viewed the exhibit which has been here since Monday.

The items in this exhibition were selected from the collection of the Mariners' Museum at Newport News.

Author Visits Lee Academy

It isn't often that school pupils get to meet the authors of the books they study, but on Tuesday morning Spotswood Hunnicutt Jones (Mrs. Catesby G. Jones, Jr.) of Gloucester, Va. talked with seventh graders of Robert E. Lee Academy, then pointed out sections of particular interest in the 7th grade history text she helped to write in collaboration with former Longwood College professor Francis Butler Simkins and Sidman P. Poole, Mrs. Jones has just completed some revision work on the text, "Virginia – History, Government, Geography", a Scribner publication which was first authorized by a Textbook Commission created by the 1950 General Assembly.

Mrs. Jones, dressed in a pleated, two-piece outfit of soft gray, says that "living in the country" (Gloucester) requires that one maintain his own library of books, and she is a collector of history texts. Her writing she does at home, interspersed with the care of a daughter, Latene' Montague, 7; and a son, Catsby Baytop, four and one-half years old.

Her husband, who accompanied her to Appomattox is Commonwealth's Attorney of Gloucester county and a board member and former president of the Virginia Education Fund which provides support for a number of private schools in Virginia.

Following luncheon with the VEF president, Charles T. Moses, Jr. and Mrs. Moses, the Jones were scheduled to visit Patrick Henry Academy.

Halloween Fun At W.O.W Friday

There's Halloween fun waiting for everyone tomorrow night (Friday) from 5:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Woodmen of the World building as Robert E. Lee Academy sponsors an exciting Halloween Festival for young and old. Admission is just 10¢.

There will be homemade stew – hot dogs – ice cream and all kinds of good things to eat plus favorite Halloween time games – bobbing for apples, costume judging, fortune telling, a fish pond and all the rest.

Dawbarn Herc For Visit

John P. Taylor (left) and Ivey Holland (right), representing conservatives for the Holton - Dawbarn - Obenshain gubernatorial talk over publicity releases with Republican candidate for lieutenant - governor H. D. ("Buz") Dawbarn, who stopped in Appomattox Tuesday evening enroute to Roanoke. John Taylor asked Dawbarn what good it does to shake hands all around Virginia. Dawbarn implied that the handshakes CAN mean votes but "what counts is what you do after you get there (in office)." Holland is chairman of the county campaign with Taylor as co-chairman.

Farm Bureau Has New President

Autumn fruits and flowers decorated the head table Saturday evening at Oakville Elementary School as Senator James Davis (second from left) spoke to the annual fall membership meeting of the Appomattox Farm Bureau. President John Hix (far left) presided, then, following elections, passed leadership to Walter Henry (standing next to Sen. Davis), as president; Monroe Dyess as secretary; Mrs. Bertha Jones, treasurer. Senator Davis discussed proposed changes in the Virginia Constitution. Out of town guests included state director James Ray and Lewis Williamson, field director and Mrs. Williamson.
